Reading the room, setting the pace

- ✓ Attentive to your guests
  I read the mood of the room, involve those who want to take part and give guests space to connect.
- ✓ A cohesive programme
  I connect presentations, breaks and interactive moments.
  I keep the evening moving at the right pace, with a clear thread throughout.
- ✓ Improvisation with purpose
  I respond in the moment while staying true to the brief, the audience and the schedule.

Actress, TV presenter and director.

Stage, screen and directing experience shapes the way I host.

2016–2020

Good improvisation starts with preparation

01 Understanding your brief

We discuss the occasion, the guests and the atmosphere you want.
We identify what matters most to you.

02 Shaping the programme

I plan the structure, transitions and interactive moments.
I tailor the script to the guests and the venue.

03 Getting the details right

We agree on timings and responsibilities.
I brief the team and prepare a framework for improvisation.

04 Hosting the event

I maintain focus, pace and energy.
I keep the programme lively and coherent.
